DAD AND THE DINOSAUR
G.P. Putnam's Sons
March 2017
North America

Nicholas tried to be brave like his dad, but he needed help . . . big help. He needed a dinosaur.

Nicholas wants to be brave like his dad, but that's a tall order for a small boy. Luckily, Nicholas has a toy dinosaur that makes him fearless. But when his dinosaur disappears, so does Nicholas's bravery.

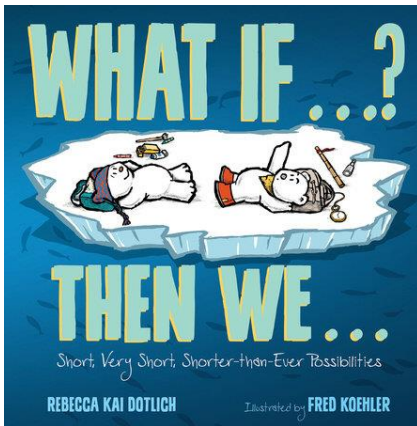

Now Nicholas must tell his dad that the dinosaur is the brave one, not him. But his dad gets it. All guys feel afraid now and then. That's just the way guys are.

"Choldenko's poignant fantasy envisions a father who, like a certain tyrannosaur, looms large in his son's mind. Her knowing, understated storytelling and Santat's warm, expressive spreads give full credence to the fears that weigh on kids, as well as the presences — both real and imagined — that can help alleviate them." – Publishers Weekly, starred review

"This is a modern story reminiscent of Dumbo and his 'magic' feather that readers will enjoy as they explore the ideas of bravery, ability, and what lies inside each of us. A winning book sure to attract and delight a wide audience." – School Library Journal

Foreign Sales: French/Scholastic Canada.

Gennifer Choldenko is the New York Times-bestselling author of AL CAPONE DOES MY SHIRTS, a Newbery Honor Book, and its three sequels. The series has sold more than a million copies worldwide. Gennifer's other picture books include PUTTING THE MONKEYS TO BED, LOUDER, LILI, A GIANT CRUSH, and HOW TO MAKE FRIENDS WITH A GIANT. Her books have been translated into thirteen languages.

WHAT IF . . . ? THEN WE . . .
Boyd's Mills Press
February 2019
North America

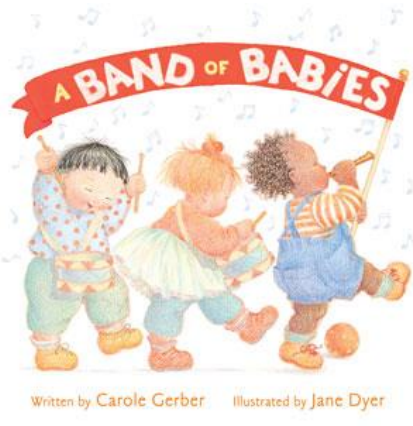

"What if . . . we got lost far, far, far away, and couldn't find our way home?"
"Then we would become the bravest explorers in the world."

An ingenious picture book that will show readers how to create their own tales in response to the question "What if...?"

Two intrepid polar bear friends travel on a ship imagined from an iceberg, encountering magnificent sights and scary situations. When a city made of crayons melts, the bears use pencils to create a beautiful gray world. When all the words in the universe disappear, the bears invent their own language. When something really big and really scary happens, they whistle and hold hands until it's not as big or scary anymore. And when they find their way back home, they're ready to imagine a thousand more possibilities.

This companion title to the Boston Globe-Horn Book Honor Book ONE DAY . . . THE END is about imagination, friendship, and finding possibilities in the smallest moments.

Rebecca Kai Dotlich is the author of WHAT CAN A CRANE PICK UP?, THE KNOWING BOOK, and BELLA AND BEAN, winner of the Golden Kite Honor Award, among many other titles. Visit her at www.rebeccakaidotlich.com.

WHERE DID YOU COME FROM, BABY DEAR?
Random House Books for Young Readers
August 2018
North America

*Where did you get those eyes so blue?
What makes the light in them sparkle and spin?
What makes your forehead so smooth and high?*

The questions new parents ask as they look in amazement on their just-born child are celebrated and fancifully answered in this inspirational poem, brought for the first time to picture-book life.

George MacDonald's lovely ode to newborn babies is beautifully animated in soft colored pencil by a treasure of the children's book world, Jane Dyer. Featuring a diverse cast of newborns, this classic, moving, and lightly spiritual poem marvels at the miracle of new life.

Jane Dyer is the beloved illustrator of more than fifty books for children. She has won numerous awards and has been on the New York Times bestseller list for books such as TIME FOR BED by Mem Fox; TALKING LIKE THE RAIN, a poetry anthology compiled by X. J. and Dorothy Kennedy; and COOKIES: BITE-SIZE LIFE LESSONS by Amy Krouse Rosenthal.

 THE STORY OF FERDINAND
 Viking Children's Books
 June 1936
 North America

*All the other little bulls he lived with would run and jump and butt their heads together, but not Ferdinand.
 He liked to sit just quietly under the cork tree and smell the flowers.*

A true classic with a timeless message, now a Academy Award-nominated animated feature film!

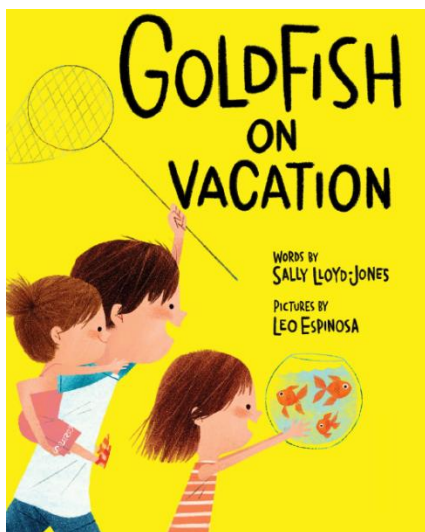

All the other bulls run, jump, and butt their heads together in fights. Ferdinand, on the other hand, would rather sit and smell the flowers. So what will happen when Ferdinand is picked for the bullfights in Madrid?

THE STORY OF FERDINAND has inspired, enchanted, and provoked readers ever since it was first published in 1936 for its message of nonviolence and pacifism. During World War II, Adolf Hitler ordered the book burned in Nazi Germany, while Joseph Stalin granted it privileged status as the only non-communist children's book allowed in Poland.

The preeminent leader of Indian nationalism and civil rights, Mahatma Gandhi, even called it his favorite book.

The story was adapted by Walt Disney into a short animated film entitled Ferdinand the Bull in 1938. Ferdinand the Bull won the 1938 Academy Award for Best Short Subject (Cartoons). A new animated film adaptation from Blue Sky Studios (creators of Ice Age, Rio, and the Peanuts movie) and directed by Carlos Saldanha will be released in December 2017.

GOLDFISH ON VACATION
Schwartz & Wade Books
April 2018
North America

*"They look so fat and happy," said H.
"Of course!" said Grandpa. "That's what a vacation will do for you. Anyway, who says you have to leave the city to have a vacation?"*

From a New York Times bestselling author and a rising star illustrator comes a humorous tale based on an amazing-but-true story about a fountain used as a goldfish pond.

H, Little O, and Baby Em are stuck in the city for the summer with only their pet goldfish--Barracuda, Patch, and Fiss--for company. It's looking like it might be a pretty boring vacation, but one day, something exciting happens. Someone starts fixing up the old fountain down the street--the one Grandpa says horses used to drink from before everyone had cars--and a sign appears: "Calling All Goldfish Looking for a Summer Home." H, Little O, and Baby Em can't wait to send their goldfish on vacation, and the fish, well, they seem pretty excited too. Based on the true story of Hamilton Fountain in New York City, this charming tale of one special summer will delight readers young and old.

"This cheerful and charming tale is a great selection for one-on-one sharing and for vacation-themed storytime." – School Library Journal

"Enjoying summer in the city requires ingenuity, as this entertaining tale – based on real-life events – shows. . . . Espinosa's sunny illustrations are a visual party." – The New York Times Book Review

For Mr. Pockles, going without a hat was as unthinkable as going around without any pants on.

Mr. Pockles has an Eating His Cornflakes Hat, an In The Bath Hat, and even a Going To Bed Hat. Too bad he has no friends to share them with. But then he meets Lady CoCo Fitz-Tulip whose bonnet — made of fruit! — has just been gobbled up by some hungry bunnies.

Hold onto your hats for this outrageous tale from a bestselling author and illustrator about kindness and an irresistible little dog with a big heart.

Sally Lloyd-Jones is the author of twenty-four previous books for children, including the New York Times bestseller HOW TO BE A BABY... BY ME, THE BIG SISTER (Random House, 2007).

ERNESTINE'S MILKY WAY
March 2019
North America

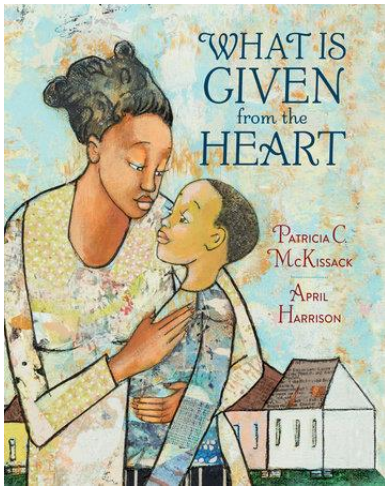

One day, Mama said, "Ernestine, I need you to do a job for me."

An empowering picture book set in the 1940s about a determined five-year-old girl who embarks on a journey to deliver milk to her neighbors.

Every morning, Ernestine shouts out her window to the Great Smoky Mountains, "I'm five years old and a big girl!" When Mama asks Ernestine—who helps with chores around the farm while Papa is away at war—to carry two mason jars filled with milk to their neighbor, Ernestine isn't sure she can do it. After all, she'd need to walk through thickets of crabapple and blackberry by the creek, not to mention past vines of climbing bittersweet. But Ernestine is five years old and a big girl, so off she sets. Along the way, one mason jar slips from her arms and rolls down the mountainside into the river, and Ernestine is sure it's lost forever . . . until her neighbor's son shows up with a muddy jar—and there's a surprise inside!

With tons of flavor and a can-do spirit, here is a celebration of history and a plucky girl who knows that helping a family in need is worth the trouble.

Kerry Madden-Lunsford is the author of the Appalachian Maggie Valley Trilogy: Gentle's Holler, Louisiana's Song, and Jessie's Mountain (translation rights via Viking). Her other books include Offsides, a 1997 New York Public Library Books for the Teen Age selection, Writing Smarts, which helps kids craft their own stories and poetry, and Nothing Fancy About Kathryn & Charlie, about a Selma, Alabama friendship between a storyteller and a folk artist. Kerry is an Associate Professor of Creative Writing at the University of Alabama Birmingham and also teaches at Antioch University in Los Angeles and at the Sewanee Young Writers Conference in Tennessee. "I know if we had a fire, I would miss my aprons," Mama explained. "So I've decided to make Ms. Temple one."

James Otis knows what it's like to be poor. Still, he just has to find something to share with Sarah, whose family has lost everything in a fire. But what does he have that she would want? His beautiful sparkling rock? No, that wouldn't help—you can't eat a rock. His crayons? No way. Then he remembers what Reverend Dennis said one Sunday—"What is given from the heart reaches the heart"—and it gets him thinking...

Here is a heartfelt picture book about the power of kindness and the joy of giving by a master storyteller and a renowned artist.

"The full faces of the characters and the muted palette and spare backgrounds reflect the dignity and joy to be found within black culture and community life even in lean times. A sweet story, one of the legendary McKissack's last, enhanced by delectable art from a prodigious new talent." – Kirkus, starred review

Patricia C. McKissack was an award-winning author of many beloved books for children, including NEVER FORGOTTEN, a Coretta Scott King Honor Book, and THE DARK-THIRTY, a Newbery Honor Book and Coretta Scott King Award winner. She passed away in 2017.

Casey twirled and twirled until he got dizzy and plopped down on his bottom. Casey laughed. Jessie frowned.

2018 Children's Notable Discussion List for ALA Midwinter

Irma Simonton Black & James H. Black Award for Excellence in Children's Literature Finalist

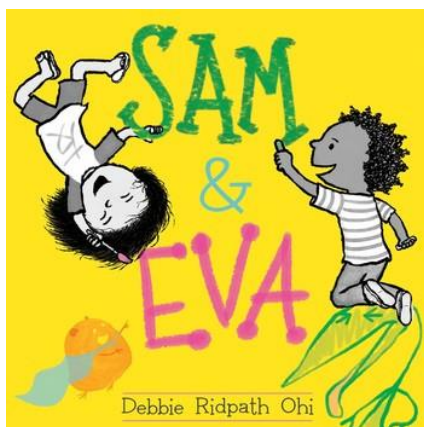

Casey loves to play with his blocks, puzzles, and dump truck, but he also loves things that sparkle, shimmer, and glitter. When his older sister, Jessie, shows off her new shimmery skirt, Casey wants to wear a shimmery skirt too. When Jessie comes home from a party with glittery nails, Casey wants glittery nails too. And when Abuelita visits wearing an armful of sparkly bracelets, Casey gets one to wear, just like Jessie. The adults in Casey's life embrace his interests, but Jessie isn't so sure. Boys aren't supposed to wear sparkly, shimmery, glittery things. Then, when older boys at the library tease Casey for wearing girl things, Jessie realizes that Casey has the right to be himself and wear whatever he wants. Why can't both she and Casey love all things shimmery, glittery, and sparkly?

Here is a sweet, heartwarming story about acceptance, respect, and the freedom to be yourself in a world where any gender expression should be celebrated. Sparkly things are for everyone to enjoy!

"This slice-of-life story will appeal to families, whether or not they include gender-creative members. A cheerful addition for libraries that need more titles like Cheryl Kilodavis's My Princess Boy and Sarah Hoffman's Jacob's New Dress." – School Library Journal

Foreign Sales: Spanish/Scholastic.

Lesléa Newman is the acclaimed author of over sixty books for children, including HEATHER HAS TWO MOMMIES. Nine of her books have been Lambda Literary Award finalists. She has also received three Pushcart Prize nominations and the James Baldwin Award for Cultural Achievement.

*"Dinosaurs sink."
 "You have never seen a dinosaur."
 "That is true. But I am pretty sure they sink."
 "Gosh."*

Two delightfully anxious friends learn that they can overcome anything – even gravity – in this humorous and heartwarming picture book.

Bob the puffer fish and his best buddy Sea Monkey may be little but they've got one ocean-sized problem. Sea Monkey's terrified he'll sink straight to the bottom of the ocean. Bob on the other hand is worried that his puffed up frame will float up above the surface. How will they stay together when the forces of gravity are literally trying to pull them apart? By holding hands, of course!

"Like Mo Willems' Elephant and Piggie books . . . Just the right amount of silliness enhances the tale of the already comical, bow tie-wearing, google-eyed Sea Monkey and the bright yellow, puffed-out Bob." – Booklist

"Everybody feels sad sometimes."

"Even astronauts?"

"Even astronauts."

A charming sequel to I'M BORED by New York Times bestselling author and comedian Michael Ian Black and celebrated illustrator Debbie Ridpath Ohi.

Everyone feels sad sometimes — even flamingos. When Flamingo announces he's feeling down, a little girl and Potato try to cheer him up, but nothing seems to work. Not even dirt! (Which usually works for Potato.)

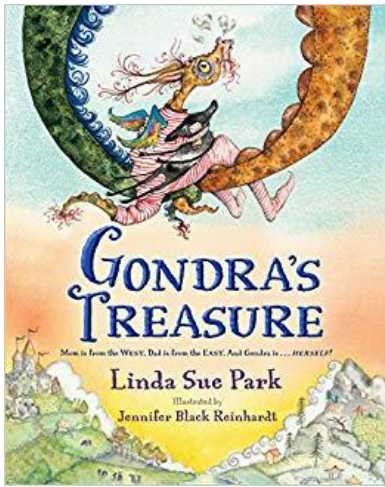

Flamingo learns that he will not always feel this way. And his friends learn that sometimes being a friend means you don't have to cheer someone up. You just have to stick by your pal no matter how they feel. Even if they're a potato.

"This is an accessible picture book that delicately handles the subject of sadness in children. Pair with Mo Willems's My Friend is Sad for a lighthearted approach to a common tough topic." – School Library Journal

DREAMING OF YOU
Boyds Mill Press
March 2018
North America

*Kittens are dreaming of pouncing on yarn.
Kittens are dreaming of snoozing with you
On a big pile of hay in an old dairy barn.*

This lyrical and beautifully illustrated lullaby picture book prepares children ages 3-6 for bedtime by imagining what animals dream. This soothing bedtime story explores the question, When animals sleep, what do they see in their dreams? The lyrical text tells readers that chipmunks dream of digging deep burrows, puppies dream of long, waggy walks, and horses dream of wild, windy rides. But most of all, the animals dream of all the fun and adventure the next day will bring. The gentle rhymes and gorgeous, serene illustrations combine to create a comforting story perfect for transitioning from a busy day to being tucked in peacefully at night.

“Sweetly imaginative, linguistically rich, and featuring enlivening vocabulary with lots of active verbs and new and interesting nouns and adjectives, this offers a fresh entry in the familiar canon of bedtime reads. Children will be delighted by the various animals' activities and the notion that feathered, furred, and scaly sleepers like themselves enjoy nothing better than dreaming of kids. A delightful answer to the oft-asked question, do animals dream?” – Kirkus, starred review

*Does he sound out the words?
 Or just take a quick look?*

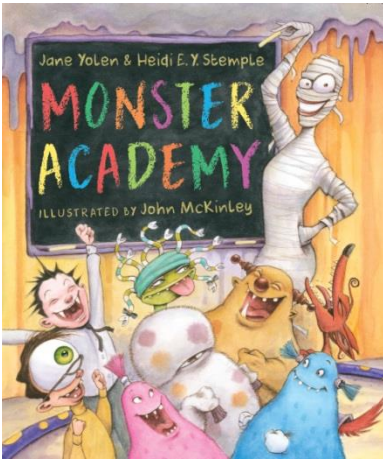

With more than 14 million books in print, the HOW DO DINOSAURS...? series is a huge hit all over the world.

Get ready to laugh at this lighthearted, heartwarming, and funny approach to books!

Children sometimes feel the task of learning to read is overwhelming, but the winning combination of rhyme and illustrations here provide a perfect way to present the subject in a comical, engaging, and nonjudgmental way. The contrast of enormous dinosaurs in kid-sized bedrooms (with human parents) adds irresistible humor as families explore the do's and don'ts of reading. Both practical and engaging, this book shows dinosaurs getting into all sorts of reading-related trouble! But of course, in the end, the dinosaurs learn how to carefully handle their books, read out loud, and read a lot!

"An appealing approach, as ever filled with humor and common sense." – Kirkus
